THE VICE-PRESIDENT STILL IN NEW-YORK RECEIVING MANY VISITORS AT HIS HOME-PREPAR-ING TO GO TO WASHINGTON WHENEVER SUM-MONED.

Vice-President Arthur remained at his home yes terday and was visited there by numerous political friends. He received the official bulletins from the White House and some private dispatches, but none that summoned him to Washington. It was intimated by some of his friends that even though the President should die there was not the same urgency for the Vice-President to be at the Capital and assume the duties of the office that existed when the President was first shot. The public mind, it was said, had been prepared for the change, and it could be made now without that fear and excitement which might have attended it six weeks ago. Private dispatches were received by the Vice-President at a late hour last night. He was prepared to go to Washington, he said, whenever a summons reached him, alth ugh he had not given up hopes of the President's ecovery. Among those who called upon the Vice-President in the course of the day we e General Grant, ex-Scuator Conkling, who was secompanied by Senator Logan, of Himois, and many others, his house being almost full of visitors at one time. Last night there we epesent in the house with the Vice-P esiden until a late hour, Senator Jones, of Nevada, Police Commissioner French, Geo ge Bliss, and some othe s, while George W.
